

RECREATION AND THE ARTS

Culture and the Arts

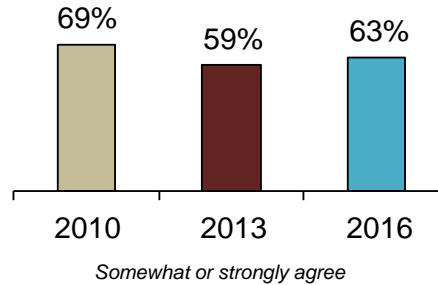

Consideration of adequate cultural and arts opportunities is a concern for three in 10 rural Minnesota residents, with just over three in five (63%) feeling local needs are being considered or met – a slight increase from 2013 findings.

Community Does a Good Job Considering Diverse Cultural Opportunities and the Arts

Most rural Minnesota regions show improvement in this area over 2013 findings, with those in the Southeast and Northwest regions being the most likely to feel that their communities do an adequate job considering culture and the arts.

Rural Minnesotans: Community Considers Diverse Cultural Opportunities and the Arts

Diverse Cultural Opportunities and the Arts

